ASBYU Senate Passes Bill For Charities

A bill to apportion Campus Chest funds amounting to $12,125.38 was defeated by the ASBYU Senate in a meeting Monday, according to Sophomore Class Senator Lou Dredge, who introduced the bill.

THE BILL PROVIDES for the funds received from the 1965 Campus Chest Drive to be divided between seven charities and organizations, according to Senator Dredge.

The Primary Children's Hospital received 20 percent of the funds while the Utah Valley Training School at American Fork will receive 25 percent. The remaining 45 percent will be divided between the Utah Foundation for the Blind, The Foreign Students Relief Fund, the Mental Health Association and the Crippled Children's Fund. Five percent will be put into an emergency fund to be apportioned by the Assembly.

Vision Is Essential Says Bishop Simpson

Without vision the people perish. . . . Without a little vision . . . a few well established . . . each day in your life . . . don't make it."

COUNSELOR Bishop R. L. Simpson, first counselor, Presiding Bishopric, in his address at Tuesday's Devotional in the Smith Fieldhouse.

Victory is ever really won at first a clear cut object, and the simpler that objective the more likely you are to win. Bishop Simpson told them.

BISHOP SIMPSON reminded them that Heavenly Father has summarized his total objective in one short sentence as he said: "for this is my work, to bring about the glory and eternal life of mine and the souls which are in them."

The gift of immortality has been accomplished through Jesus Christ.

The gift of eternal life is only ability and is dependent on individual performance. . . . doing what needs to be done upon scoring a few points each day," he said.

THE CHURCH LEADER gave four attributes looked for in the corporation he was formerly associated with for 20 years in the selection of future leaders.

"We have to find people who, first, had the ability to state a goal and reach it; second, to do it through the cooperation of other people; third, to have a sense of whose judgment must be respected; and fourth, could accomplish these things under conditions of stress," he stated.

BISHOP SIMPSON stated that Big Business says "almost any one can succeed when the going is easy—but how about when the going gets difficult?" "I believe that true value lies not with the man who can do the work of ten, but the man who can get ten to work . . . all you have to do is serve the people and they will make you famous," Bishop Simpson said.

He concluded by stating that the real difference between he who succeeds and he who fails is the ability to perform under conditions of stress."

Married life is fun for Sue and Jack Sowers even though it can be messy at times. Dinner time is special for this family. It's one time when Daddy takes time out from his studies to be with Jeffrey, Dione and his wife.

hands as well as wives are seen in the laundry areas. Young warns Kent to separate their daughter Marle from bundle of clothes before washing. Butch helps while Judy and little Jeri Lynn fold clothes.

A Look At Marrieds

BYU means different things to over 3,500 students with a wedding band than it does to those still looking. And it has even other meanings to those surrounded by the patter of little feet.

Married life brings more serious questions like, "Where will the month's rent come from?" or "Can we afford to buy Johnny some new shoes?"

Instead of being concerned about going out all the time, marrieds welcome a chance to spend a quiet evening at home with their families.

It's not that marrieds are wet blankets, it's just that their values and ideas change and their most important goals are to find peace and security in a happy home life; to prepare for and rear children, and to seek goals beyond this life.

A married student's life is occupied by different activities. The husband for example must take 15 to 18 hours, work part-time and sometimes full-time to pay the rent and bills, hold down one or more Church jobs and take out the garbage.

The wife must keep the house clean, take care of the children, prepare the meals, do the laundry, make sure there is a cake or cookies in the jar, and make her husband happy, besides going to school or working and reminding her husband to take out the garbage.

Beverly Miner takes a last look at Marjorie and Steven before going to Primary. While husband Ellis is working on doctorate in Astrophysics she finds time to sew and bake special things.

football star Steve Kramer pauses after school to pose in sand with his wife JoAnn and daughter Kellie. JoAnn also comes relaxing moment after work.

With studies, cooking, cleaning, and making plans for another baby, Allan and Judy Newbill don't forget they are shaping lives of their children Robin and Vernon. Family prayer and Home Evenings are most important aspects of their lives.

Cougar Tennis Men Bludgeon Aggie Netters

by Warren Dastrop
Universe Sports-writer

The BYU tennis team easily rolled past Utah State University in dual competition by downing the Aggies 9-0.

UTAH STATE definitely didn't have the strength or the depth to handle the Cougar racketmen as they didn't win a single match.

BYU was without the services of three of their best men as Don Lowe and Carlos Sendeid did not see action at all and Bill Port didn't play singles but he teamed up with Sims Nikolic for the doubles competition.

SENDEID WAS out because he had just had a tooth pulled and Lowe was nursing an elbow injury. Port had a sore shoulder.

The Cougars will be meeting WAC for New Mexico this Friday on the BYU courts at 2:30. According to tennis coach Wayne Pearce, New Mexico has one of their strongest teams ever and should give the Cats some real good competition.

THE PROVO Invitational Tournament will be held here starting on Monday, April 25, and continuing three days. The tourney will be very similar to the recently completed Ice Breaker Tournament held in Salt Lake City and will attract the top players of the area.

By solving problems in astronautics, Air Force scientists expand man's knowledge of the universe. Lt. Howard McKinley, M.A., tells about research careers on the Aerospace Team.

(Lt. McKinley holds degrees in electronics and electrical engineering from the Georgia Institute of Technology and the Armed Forces Institute of Technology. He received the 1963 Air Force Research & Development Award for his work with inertial guidance systems. Here he answers some frequently-asked questions about the place of college-trained men and women in the U.S. Air Force.)

Is Air Force research really advanced, compared to what others are doing? It certainly is. As a matter of fact, much of the work being done right now in universities and industry had its beginnings in Air Force research and development projects. After you're involved in the development of guidance systems for space vehicles—a current Air Force project in America's space program—you're working on the frontiers of knowledge.

What areas do Air Force scientists get involved in? Practically any you can name. Of course the principal aim of Air Force research is to expand our aerospace capability. But in carrying out this general purpose, individual projects explore an extremely wide range of topics. "Side effects" of Air Force research are often as important, scientifically, as the main thrust.

How important is the work a recent graduate can expect to do? It's just as important and exciting as your own knowledge and skill can make it. From my own experience, I can say that right from the start I was doing vital, absorbing research. That's one of the things that's so good about an Air Force career—it gives young people the chance to do meaningful work in the areas that really interest them.

What non-scientific jobs does the Air Force offer? Of course the Air Force has a continuing need for talented officers—pilots and navigators. There are also many varied and challenging administrative-managerial positions. Remember, the Air Force is a vast and complex organization. It takes a great many different kinds of people to keep it running. But there are two uniform criteria: you've got to be intelligent, and you've got to be willing to work hard.

What sort of future do I have in the Air Force? Just as big as you want to make it. In the Air Force, talent has a way of coming to the top. It has to be that way, if we're going to have the best people in the right places, keeping America strong and free.

What's the best way to start an Air Force career? An excellent way—the way I started—right through Air Force Officer Training School. OTS is a three-month course, given at Lackland Air Force Base, near San Antonio, Texas, that's open to both men and women. You can apply when you're within 210 days of graduation, or after you've received your degree.

How long will I be committed to serve? Four years from the time you graduate from OTS and receive your commission. If you go on to pilot or navigator training, the four years starts when you're awarded your wings.

Are there other ways to become an Air Force officer? There's the Air Force ROTC, active at many colleges and universities, and the Air Force Academy, where admission is by examination and Congressional appointment. If you'd like more information on any Air Force program, you can get it from the Professor of Aerospace Studies (if there's one on your campus) or from an Air Force recruiter.

The second game offered a bit more excitement to the crowd.

Kelly, Rebel pitcher, threw to first baseman Jim Pett but Dick Nemelka was back in plenty of time. The Cougars won both ends of the twinbill against Dixie.

The Cougars pelted the horsehide all over the place and used four pitchers along the way. Larnie Haacke received credit for the win.

STARTER STEVE THOMAS lasted only an inning as he developed a sore arm. Haacke came in and did a fine job. After him, came Guy Hale and Lee Hudson, both newcomers to the mound.

The Cats got six runs in the first two innings as Dennis Lamb, Hale, Hudson and Clark Burt punched out hits. Rebel starter, Don Ivory couldn't get control as he issued free passes to four men and hit one.

AFTER GARNERING a pair in the fourth, Coach Glen Tuckett's charges unloaded for five in the bottom of the sixth. Hale and Bob Martin got the only two hits of the inning but fielding miscues on the part of the Rebels accounted for nearly all of the tallies.

Dixie pushed across its lone run in the sixth as Phil Hudson, and Chuck Laughton singled and Hudson threw a wild pitch.

Weber State College visits Provo Wednesday afternoon in a make-up game. Tuckett will probably use Steve Cahoon, Rick Putnam and Dennis Kelly for the twinbill.

1. Counting your riches?

That's a laugh.

2. How so?

The way I figure it, I can hardly afford to wake up tomorrow morning.

3. I thought you were loaded.

I have exactly a dollar thirty-two and three pages of green stamps.

4. Call your dad. He always comes through.

Not since he found out about that pair of elephant tusks I bought for $198.50.

5. Didn't you tell him tusks were m?

He told me I'd have to demonstrate a more sensible attitude toward money before he'd shell out anything above the subsistence level.

6. That's no problem. Next time you get some dough, get yourself a Living Insurance policy from Equitable. It's one of the most sensible things you can do with your money. It guarantees security for your family, builds cash values you can always use, and by getting it now, when you're young, you pay less.

I'll do it! But don't tell dad about my new stuffed alligator.

For information about Living Insurance, see The Man from Equitable. For information about career opportunities at Equitable, see your Placement Officers, or write to Edward D. McDougall, Manager, Manpower Development Division.

A MOTHER'S MEMORIES

Mothers are the nicest people . . . so warm and sweet and giving! So busy being mothers there's little time to enjoy it until children are grown and gone. That's when mothers really appreciate fine professional portraits of children and grandchildren. Honor your Mother this May with portraits of her own, dearest posterity. It's quite the nicest kind of giving.
